

Itec Direct Partners with Talon Power

DELIVERS ADVANCED AI-DRIVEN SECURITY SOLUTION

Facing the growing threat of organised daytime warehouse robberies, where criminal syndicates target stock-heavy facilities, Talon Power partnered with Itec Direct to implement an intelligent, proactive security strategy.

Talon Power, known for supplying and distributing durable, premium industrial products across Southern Africa since 1979, required a robust security solution to protect its high-value stock and workforce.

Facing the growing threat of organised daytime warehouse robberies, where criminal syndicates target stock-heavy facilities, Talon Power partnered with Itec Direct to implement an intelligent, proactive security strategy. The solution included a Dahua CCTV system, enhanced with advanced AI-powered Lytehouse Gun Detection technology, designed to identify threats in real time and trigger rapid response protocols.

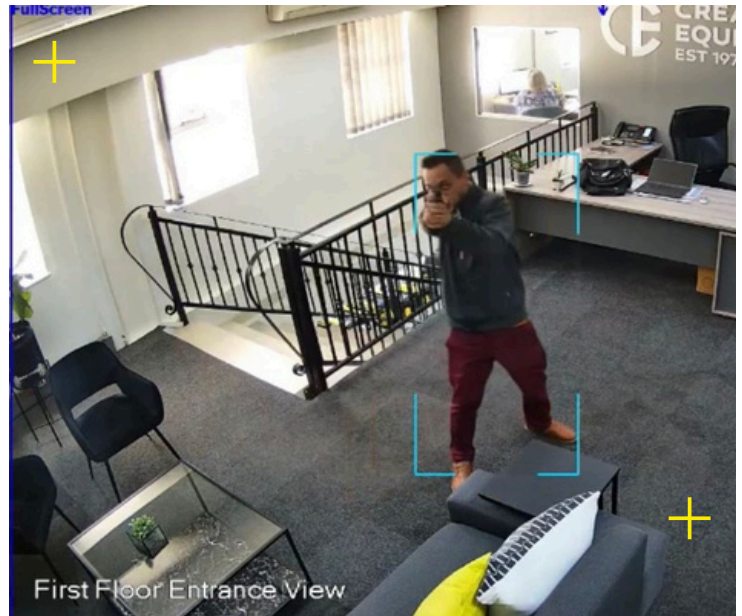

The system was carefully refined following initial testing, ensuring the AI could accurately distinguish between genuine threats and non-threatening objects or familiar personnel. This fine-tuning resulted in a highly reliable solution tailored specifically to Talon Power's operational environment.

"By combining AI-driven analytics, real-time monitoring, and rapid response capabilities, we were able to design a custom solution that not only detects threats but actively prevents loss and protects people."

- Ashley van Breda
Group Project Manager

The deployment included various Dahua IP CCTV Network Video Recorder's, 4 megapixel AI Dome Cameras, and a long-range Automatic Number Plate Recognition camera to capture all vehicle registration plates entering and exiting the premises.

AI capabilities were enabled through Lytehouse Base Licences and Scout AI, providing continuous virtual guard monitoring for weapon detection and behaviour analysis. The site is further protected through 24/7 camera monitored by MetaGuard from their control room built.

A live, unannounced simulation test demonstrated the effectiveness of the solution, with a full armed response dispatched and on-site within just 5 minutes and 35 seconds, proving both the speed and accuracy of the system installed and partners involved.

The project, completed over 3 months, reflects Itec Direct's ability to combine trusted hardware, intelligent software, and strong client relationships to deliver custom security solutions that proactively protect people, assets and operations.

Working with Itec Direct has been an exceptional experience. Their understanding of our business, commitment to refining the technology, and dedication to delivering a solution that genuinely works has given us confidence and peace of mind. This partnership has set a new standard for security in our operation.
